

Steve Thompson, ARM, COSS

President, Aspen Risk Management Group

Coauthor, Workplace Safety: A Guide for Small and Midsized Companies

Founder, Workers' Compensation Training Consortium

Coach, Polestar Performance Programs

Steve Thompson is the President and co-founder of Aspen Risk Management Group, an employee-owned consulting company providing risk management, safety, and human resources consulting services.

He is an innovator and leader in risk management, safety performance management, and business improvement.

He is the co-author of Workplace Safety: A Guide for Small and Midsized Companies (Wiley), and contributing author of Tools of the Trade: A Compilation of Programs and Processes for the Absence, Disability, Health and Productivity Professional (DMEC). He and his team have conducted hundreds of ergonomic evaluations.

He has served as a safety manager and risk manager for small, midsized, and large companies, and participated in numerous non-profit organizations as a board member and volunteer, including the Pacific Safety Council and San Diego Insurance Adjusters Association. He is a former Air Force medic and licensed vocational nurse at multiple emergency rooms. He lives in San Diego, CA.